MISSION

The mission of the conference is to provide an international platform for discussion on scientific research and educational practices that could have a positive impact on effective realization of the UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). We believe that the exchange of ideas and solutions in these areas, as well as creating local and global partnerships, are the only paths towards a peaceful society, and a peaceful world.

SPECIFICALLY, WE WOULD LIKE TO :

- Clarify the role environmental stability plays in realization of SDGs.
- Suggest new directions in environmental education congruent with SDGs.
- Discuss with participants their own plans for contribution to realization of SDGs
- Propose the new ways of motivating young generation for involvement in research and projects promoting SDGs.

HOSTING ORGANIZATIONS

Janparishad means 'Council of People'. The mission of this organization is to promote human, moral, and national values. The central theme of Janparishad is having a constructive approach to life. Since its inception, Janparishad has carried out social responsibilities and contributed toward several national and international causes. On 15th of June 2014, the organization celebrated the Silver Jubilee of its constructive journey. It is evident that in these 28 years this organization has become synonymous with positive constructive activities. This is the sixth international conference on issues related to Agriculture and Environment organized by Janparishad. (for more details visit the website www.janparishad.com)

International Cities of Peace is a non-profit, tax-exempt association dedicated to connecting, promoting, and encouraging the global cities of peace movement. An Advisory Council of leaders from global Cities of Peace organizations is working to create an all-inclusive, non-polarizing network of world citizens working on the ground to bring peace to their communities. In the view of this organization, is not just a hope. It's a right. International Cities of Peace defines peace as safety, prosperity, and quality of life. To encourage collaboration and promote respect for people of all faiths and creeds, the organization follows so called Golden Rule, that provides an ethical basis for enabling all communities to work together toward a culture of peace. (for more details visit the website www.internationalcitiesofpeace.org)

Center for Global Nonkilling promotes change toward the measurable goal of a killing-free world. This goal can be reached by globally advancing relevant knowledge and skills, incorporating them into education and training, and applying them in individual and social decisions for the well-being of all. The task calls for infinite creativity and mutual support among all individuals, organizations, and institutions whose work contributes to progress toward the goal of a nonkilling world. (for more details visit the website <http://nonkilling.org>)

International Council of People was established and inaugurated on 14th of June 2014 during the celebration of silver jubilee of Janparishad. The following officials highlighted importance of this moment by their presence: His Highness late Shri Ram Naresh Yadav (Governor of Madhya Pradesh), His Excellency Dr. Aziz Qureshi (Governor of Uttarakhand), Prof. Kaptan Singh Solanki (Senior Member of Parliament, at present Governor of Himachal Pradesh), Shri Alok Sanjer (Member of Parliament), Mr. Yashpal Sharma (veteran film actor), and Shre Pradeep Choubey (internationally known poet). Since then Janparishad and JMBVSS have been making significant efforts to support international activities of the Council.

JMBVSS (Jhaneshwar Mahila Bal Vikas Evam Sikshan Samiti) has been involved in social service since 1992. JMBVSS works at macro level to develop and educate deprived children, women and marginal sectors of the society. JMBVSS strives to create modern infrastructure and a trained social work force in rural areas. JMBVSS is exempted u/s 80(G) by the Income Tax Act.

Sustainability Transition Consulting (SusTranCon) is a technology, consulting, and business process services company helping governments, corporations, and community organizations achieve their mission. It combines the power of cognitive computing, hyper-automation, robotics, cloud, analytics and emerging technologies to help our clients adapt to the digital world and make them successful. The organization is strongly committed to the UN Sustainable Development Goals. As achieving these goals requires substantial change across multiple areas, sustainability experts help organizations successfully transition to the new sustainable state, and accomplish the organization's vision & mission. Company's experts help to discover new ideas, and connect the dots to build a better and a bold future. SusTranCon also offer support to organizations intending to implement the concept of "smartness": smart cities, smart villages, smart universities, and smart schools. (For details please see: www.sustrancon.org)

Global Network for Sustainable Development (GNSD) was launched in Kathmandu (Nepal) at the meeting of Rotary Clubs in November 2014. Since then until the year 2017 GNSD was functioning as a project of ASU Department of Psychology. On August 14th, 2017, GNSD was officially registered in Arizona as an internationally acting NGO, and recently received a confirmation of 509 (a) (2) status. The mission of the network is to contribute to the education of the new generation of community leaders who will understand the relationship between sustainable development and peace, as well as importance of global partnership for successful realization of the UN Sustainable Development Goals. GNSD started to create Sustainability and Peace clubs in high schools in Nepal, India and USA, and is planning to expand the project to other Asian countries and Africa.
